Background: The Policy Recommendations for Open Access to Research Data in Europe (Recode) project (FP7 321463) has provided a forum for European stakeholders in the open access and data dissemination and preservation sector to work together to provide common solutions for these issues. Building on the work undertaken thus far the workshop will present a set of policy recommendations targeted to stakeholders identified as having a central role in bringing about change and structured around key themes as highlighted during the project. The workshop is addressed to policy-makers and decision-makers within the following categories: research funders, research performing organizations, data centers, scholarly societies, publishers, scholarly communication and research management experts and information specialists.

RECODE partners: Trilateral Research & Consulting, Royal Netherlands Academy of Arts and Sciences (KNAW), The University of Sheffield, Stichting LIBER Foundation, National Documentation Centre (EKT), National Research Council of Italy, Blekinge Institute of Technology, and Amsterdam University Press.

Aim of the workshop:

- Present the policy recommendations for open access to research data taking into consideration the findings from previous work of the project
- Solicit feedback from the stakeholders to whom the recommendations are addressed on the effectiveness of these recommendations and ensure that all issues of key concern have been properly addressed to allow their further refinement
- Contribute to a better understanding on how to match policies with different stakeholders' motivations
